

EGX 30 Index

EGX 70 EW Index

- In order for the index to re-test its previous secondary resistance level of 17,000, it has to consolidate around its support zone of 16,300-16,100.
- Meanwhile, short-term traders have to watch the support levels for each constituents.
- We believe the penetration of the support level of 2,940 is negative and may push the index downward targeting the next support level of 2,800.
- Meanwhile, we see that the risks of selling this index constituents is high at the current price levels, even if the current decline will continue.
